

CFA AGM Workshops

Succession Planning Workshop – Sponsored by:

With 40% of farmers scheduled to retire by 2030, Canadian Agriculture is going to see one of the largest generational transfers in Canadian history, and yet 66% of farmers do not have a succession plan.

With recent changes to the capital gains tax impacting future farm transfers, it's imperative that farmers are up to date on the current tax environment and begin developing their succession plans. This workshop will share valuable information for both the retiring and new generation of farmers to manage this complicated process. Participants will engage in discussions, interactive activities, and presentations that highlight both challenges and opportunities in this critical area.

Public Perception Workshop – Sponsored by:

FERTILIZER CANADA

FERTILISANTS CANADA

This workshop aims to explore the public perception of agriculture and farmers in Canada, examining the factors that shape these views and identifying strategies to foster a more informed and positive relationship between the agricultural sector and the general public. Participants will engage in discussions, interactive activities, and presentations that highlight both challenges and opportunities in this critical area.
